MATTHEW O. KWONG

Matthew Kwong is a Consultant specializing in data analytics and corporate business analysis for insurance and reinsurance, with a focus on system audits.

Education: University of California, Irvine – Irvine, CA
Master of Science in Business Analytics

University of Pennsylvania – Philadelphia, PA
Bachelor of Arts in Economics
Minors: Consumer Psychology, Mathematics, Systems Engineering

Extensive Technical Training: Advanced Excel, Alteryx, Cluster Analysis, Customer Segmentation, Google Analytics, Machine Learning, Predictive Modeling, Process Control, Python, R, SPSS, SQL, Statistics, Tableau

Experience:

2023 – Present   Consultant – Buxbaum, Loggia & Associates, Inc.

Utilizing data analytics and statistical computing to highlight financial patterns, validate models and identify trends in financial data, optimizing operational efficiencies and recognizing opportunities for process improvement. Consultant for casualty, property and marine business.

2023   Compensation Analytics Researcher - Paul Merage School of Business

Led a research project analyzing compensation factors and trends for University of California business school faculty.

2020 - 2022   Medical Technology Product Specialist - Radlink

Advised software and engineering teams on patented 3D medical imaging products to optimize surgical analysis and ROI. Managed accounts of Top 10 US hospitals, collaborated weekly with KOL's and designed comprehensive training manuals.